Welcome

Partner with the Leaders in Osteopathic Sports Medicine

The American Osteopathic Academy of Sports Medicine (AOASM) invites you to participate as a corporate partner in the 42nd Annual Clinical Conference, bringing together physicians and healthcare professionals committed to advancing sports medicine through education, research, and clinical excellence.

AOASM's Annual Clinical Conference is more than a meeting. It is where leaders in osteopathic sports medicine gather to exchange ideas, discover innovations, and build lasting professional relationships.

Your partnership allows you to connect directly with physicians actively seeking products, technologies, services, and solutions that improve patient care.

Whether your goal is launching a new product, strengthening relationships, increasing brand awareness, or supporting physician education, AOASM offers meaningful opportunities to help you accomplish those objectives.
